Our Ideals

PROMISES, like pie-crusts, are easily broken. On the other hand one cannot live on past performances; but past performances and a promise of earnest effort is surely evidence of what can be expected in the future.

Tiffany prefers not to make any rash promises--it does point out however, what it has done, what it is doing to-day and what it expects to do--the material, the finance and the man power it has to work with---and from that, the public and the exhibitor can draw its own conclusion as to what it can expect from Tiffany.

We prefer not to use any superlatives--not to brag or boast, or claim that we are the only ones who can do things right--but we do pledge ourselves and promise--what is within our control--honest effort, diligent application and progress in connection with all that we undertake.

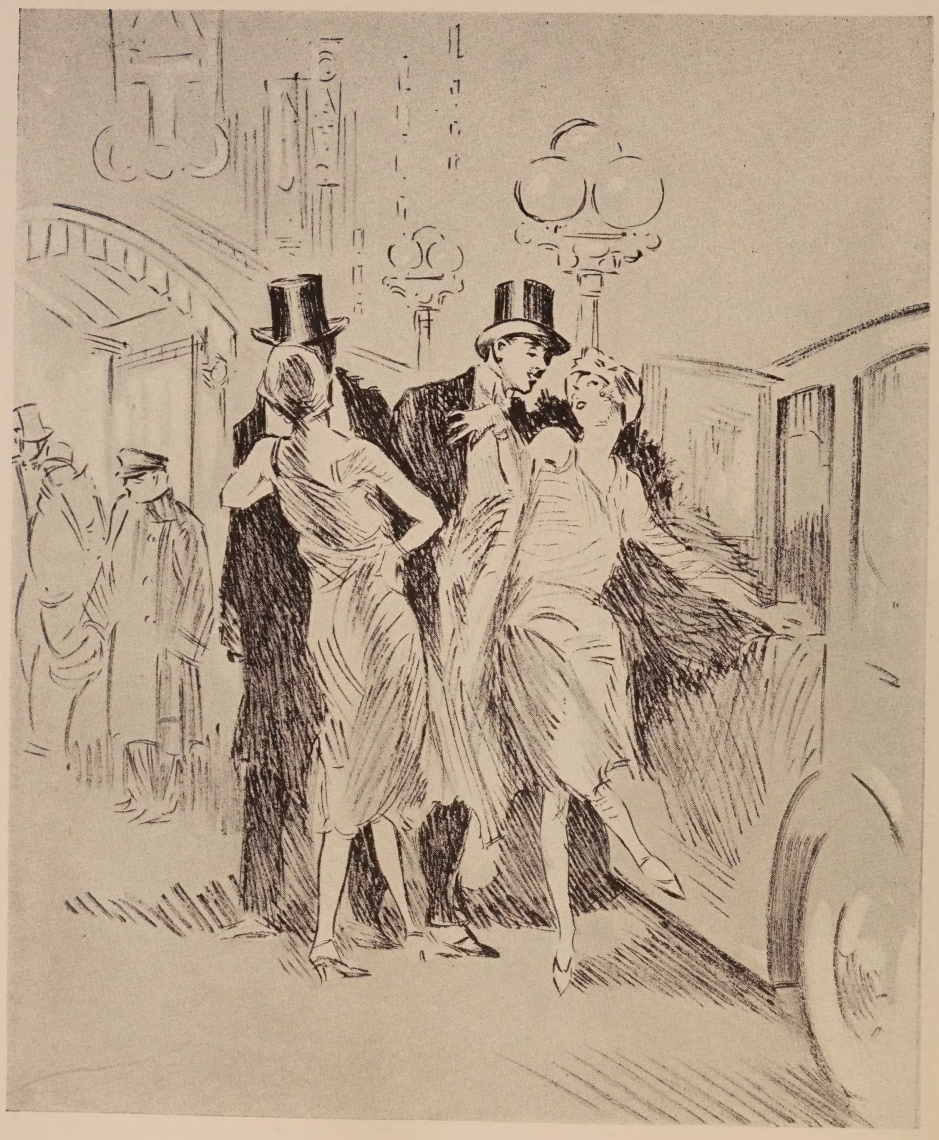
Some Titles Subject to Change

That Model From Paris

SHE was chic, smart, stunning. The men spoke of her with that knowing intonation as "That Model From Paris"--the women also--with a shrug of their pretty shoulders and the lifting of their delicately pencilled eye-brows--her conquests were many and then----

Flaming Timber

SMOKE, heavy, thick and pungent overpowering in its density, lit by a dull, angry red, the falling of burning crackling embers, and--a man fighting this relentless human element to save that which is most precious to him--"Flaming Timber" is intense--dramatic--thrilling---



Fools of Fashion

BUTTERFLIES--these "Fools Of Fashion"--seeking color, adornments--and more color cost what it may--all to please the mate--whose mate?--Just mate--The end of the day--one wing gone, the other bespattered--life itself ebbing---was it worth while----

The Tempest

MANY a turmoil in the heart of a man is by far a greater tempest than one of the elements--- Nature causes havoc and destruction on the surface--whereas in man it often destroys the soul.

One Hour Of Love

THEY had only one hour to live--Death stalked in their wake--the world looked so wonderful, so beautiful, to the lovers who were soon to be hurled into the Unknown. "One Hour Of Love" was all that was left to them. What did they do----

Wives

DEVOTED wives, loving mothers, sociable neighbors--and, gossiping wives, scheming mothers, "neighborly neighbors" make up different communities. What kind of wives are our "Wives"?----

Sin Cargo

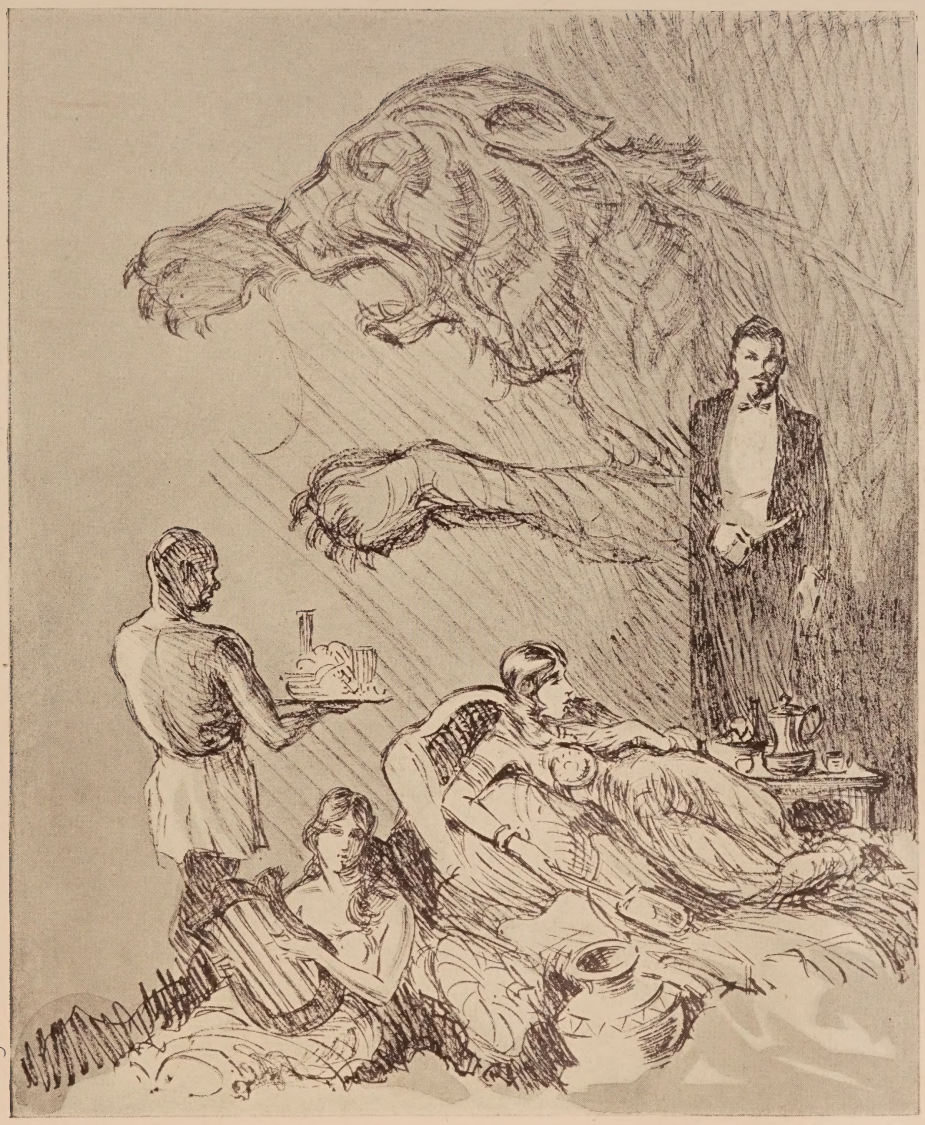
A SURLY crew of renegades and cutthroats, the riff-raff of the water-fronts, men who had broken every law of God and man, on board a four-master. They were called the "Sin Cargo". The advent of a beautiful girl on this ship of Hell, created a situation that unfolds a drama of the high seas, gripping in its intensity.

Squads Right

EVEN war has its lighter side. From the great conflict that raged not so long ago there now comes the gayer moments that relieved the grim business of war. In "Squads Right" we have a picture that will bring smiles, then chuckles--then loud laughter at the adventures of a "rookie" who might have thought that "squads right" meant writing home to mother.

The Steeplechase

HERE comes 'The Steeplechase'--Its hard to pick a winner in this one". Little do we realize as bystanders what heart throbs and yearnings, what joys and sorrows, depend upon the outcome of what is superficially--just a race.



The Tiger

HE was suave, sinister, cat-like, with that peculiar Oriental fascination that drew the women to him like the baleful, hypnotic eyes of a snake. "The Tiger" had the veneer of Western civilization but under his inscrutable gaze was inbred the racial characteristics of many centuries, that bowed woman to a man's will.

Lightning

A STIRRING drama of the wild outdoors. The female is the influence of all living species---for good or for evil. "Lightning" was the king of a herd of wild horses; He conquered his enemies and defied the elements; but the female came along - - - -

The Song of Steel

WHITE hot molten steel--the dream of Empire building. In the great steel mills brawny and sinewy men work feverishly amid a veritable Inferno shaping ribs of steel for railroad, bridge and edifice. In "The Song of Steel" is told a fascinating tale of a man's determination to rise and justify himself in the eyes of the woman he loves.

The Enchanted Island

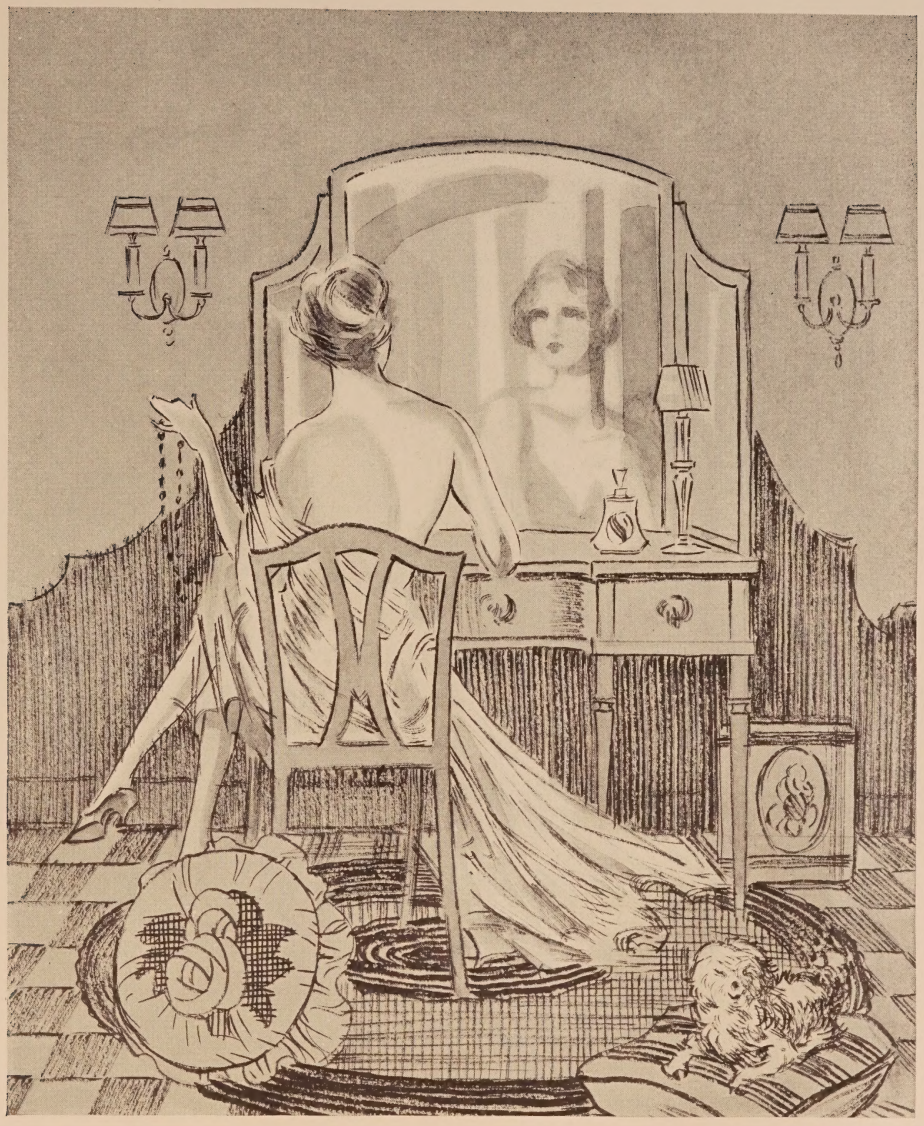
SWAYING palms--a lazy surf murmuring on the hard, white, sandy beach--a brilliant sun--a tropical moon shedding its soft, romantic light upon a man and a girl--the everyday world a million miles away to the lovers--and then------

Husband Hunters

ARTFUL are the wiles of women when seeking a mate. They weave a web for the guileless males who enmeshed in the snare, are labelled "husbands". Will she sacrifice love for riches and power-----

Snowbound

THE hideous, blood-curdling howls of a pack of angry wolves drives terror into the staunchest heart. Just so do human wolves prey upon and terrorize the weak and unprotected--But there are those who never flinch or deviate from their path and purpose regardless of the clouds in the horizon that bode danger.



The Life of A Woman

A PICTURE that runs the gamut of the innermost workings of a woman's heart and mind. To make herself attractive to the opposite sex--to enjoy life to its fullest--to love and be loved--to be discarded--to be alone and deserted--to have her heart wrung with anguish--to sacrifice for the one she loves--that is "The Life of a Woman."

Raging Seas

RAGING Seas", a turbulent, angry ocean that tosses about on its heaving bosom the great man-made liners that are but toys in the grasp of a maddened Neptune.--Raging passions, turbulent angry hearts that toss about the destinies of man on life's seas. A drama of love and sacrifice.

Top of The World

THE most unusual treatment of a usual theme. Romance and love are everywhere but, not everybody finds it. Life as is and truth untarnished are indeed stranger than fiction. We have often heard the expression "on top of the world" and in every instance the conception was different. Our heroes were "On Top Of The World", or did they only think they were----

The Squared Ring

A FIGHT need not be with fists or weapons, nor need the purse be gold. Since the Stone Age, men have fought to win or hold a woman's favor. In "The Squared Ring" lies a wonderful tale of an unusual prize fight with a background of love, action and drama.

Tale of A Vanishing People

ROYAL ancestry of an ancient people an insurmountable barrier to love and happiness. Civilization and refinment versus prejudices and customs.

TIFFANY and its Affiliated Companies have presented on the screen as great a galaxy of screen star talent as any company in the industry. This is conclusively proven by this group of artists who appeared in our pictures. Some of these and others will continue to appear in Tiffany Productions, as they may fit the various roles.
